

The book was found

How To Survive Anything: Shark Attack, Lightning, Embarrassing Parents, Pop Quizzes, And Other Perilous Situations (National Geographic Kids)

Synopsis

Let's face it. With school pressures, social pressures, parental pressures...the teenage years are tough. Your best friend is with you one day, dating your crush the next. But it could be worse! You could be face-to-face with an angry grizzly, or chest-deep in quicksand. Never fear, National Geographic has the solution! In this hilariously informative take on surviving the trials of middle school and the jungles of South America, we combine our expertise on nature and adventure with the fun-and-learning approach of our Nat Geo style...and voila, the perfect advice to conquer any obstacle, whether it threatens life or social status or both. Edgy, young, authoritative, and amusingly illustrated, this title will grab the attention of young teens and gift-buyers alike.

Book Information

Series: National Geographic Kids

Paperback: 176 pages

Publisher: National Geographic Children's Books (April 12, 2011)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1426307748

ISBN-13: 978-1426307744

Product Dimensions: 6 x 0.5 x 9 inches

Shipping Weight: 11.2 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.7 out of 5 stars 24 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #65,835 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #10 in Books > Teens > Social Issues > Being a Teen #19 in Books > Teens > Education & Reference > Reference

Customer Reviews

Rachel Buchholz is the executive editor of National Geographic Kids and National Geographic Little Kids magazines in Washington, DC. In her more than 15 years of editing, she has found some of the world's most amazing stories about animals. She is the author of the Children's Choice-nominated book How to Survive Anything: Shark Attack, Lightning, Embarrassing Parents, Pop Quizzes, and Other Perilous Situations and a former editor at Boys' Life magazine in Dallas.

How to Survive | A VOLCANIC ERUPTION Volcanoes can be so rude. One minute they're just sitting there behaving themselves, the next they're belching and hurling all sorts of nasty stuff from their insides. And unfortunately, you can't tell a volcano to just chill. Use these survival tips when a volcano decides to blow:

- Be a Magma Monitor Just like your little sister's annoying tantrums, volcanoes give warning signs. Scientists monitor these closely, so if you're planning to hike a volcano, check with the U.S. Geological Survey to see if your mountain is about to become a monster.
- Rocks Roll Volcanoes are full of surprises – dangerous ones that spew out when they erupt. If you're caught in a hailstorm of red-hot rocks and can't find shelter, make like a roly-poly bug: Curl yourself into a ball and protect your head and neck.
- Hold Your Breath Smell that fresh air! On second thought, don't! Erupting volcanoes emit poisonous carbon dioxide gases, so strap on your breathing mask while you look for shelter. Once you get inside, seal up all the doors and windows tight. Head for the highest floor possible, or at least stand on some furniture. CO₂ tends to collect near the ground, so find another place besides the floor for your volcano sleepover.
- Surf Up! That wave of lava headed your way is not going to be fun to surf on. Lava can travel at 100 to 200 miles (161 to 322 km) an hour and can reach temperatures of 2,200 °F (1,204 °C). Unless you want to be toast (make that burnt toast!), get out of its way – fast. A ditch or creek in between you and the lava can help divert the flow away from you.
- Here's Mud In Your Eye Then again, you may have bigger problems than superhot lava. Eruptions can trigger lahars – fast-flowing mixtures of melted snow, volcanic ash, and soil that will feel like a brick wall when it hits you. If it doesn't boil you alive, it might make you look like a cartoon character that's been flattened by a steamroller. Better get out of its way!

so interesting, for kids... but also for adults

My son loves this book. Maybe the shorter pieces help his interest, the subject matter isn't as macabre as one might think from the title. It's very well done, and even talks about gossip, embarrassing parents, embarrassing situations at school, and then it goes to bee swarms, etc. The boys in his class have all asked to borrow it, and pass it around at school. I am a big fan of interesting content for boys to get excited about books and reading. This really fits the bill.

This is absolutely a fantastic book. Cleverly written. Entertaining. Fun illustrations. This book also has useful information not only for kids, but for bigger kids (grownups). Every kid needs to know how to survive embarrassing parents! And, how about the first day at a new school? Shark attacks, too. And earthquakes. Yes, it's a fun AND useful book. You'd expect no less from National Geographic Kids.

Bought for Christmas....read entire book the same day. And quotes some of the items from the book. Recommended for anyone

My 3rd grader grandson dived into this immediately and loved to tell us about the coolest way to survive hair-raising incidents. It's not a book that must be read from cover to cover or in a certain order, and that's a plus for an active youngster. He doesn't seem to think of it as a "reading" book, just a way to learn about really cool stuff.

I bought this for my nephew. He is really inquisitive kid. There are a load of information inside and well designed and laid out. Should keep him entertained for a while. Not as big as I thought.

6"WX9"H

great book

I want to read this book!! I bought it as a gift for one of my grandsons and he loves it. It helps with reading skills because it is so darned interesting!

Download to continue reading...

How to Survive Anything: Shark Attack, Lightning, Embarrassing Parents, Pop Quizzes, and Other Perilous Situations (National Geographic Kids) Narcissistic Parents.: 10 Tips on How to Not Hate Your Parents. Toxic parents,immature parents. (Borderline Personality Disorder, Narcissistic Parent, ... the Narcissist Book2.Immature parents.) How To Survive An EMP Attack: The Ultimate 10 Step Survival Guide On How To Prepare For Life Before, During, and After an EMP Attack That Brings Down The National Power Grid The Massive Book of Bible Trivia, Volume 1: 1,200 Bible Trivia Quizzes (A Massive Book of Bible Quizzes) They're Your Parents, Too!: How Siblings Can Survive Their Parents' Aging Without Driving Each Other Crazy National Geographic Guide to National Parks of the United States, 8th Edition (National Geographic Guide to the National Parks of the United States) National Geographic Kids Look and Learn: Count! (National Geographic Little Kids Look and Learn) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of Why (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of Dinosaurs (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of Bugs (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of

Animals (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of the Ocean (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Kids First Big Book of Space (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of How (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of Space (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of Birds (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Little Kids First Big Book of Who (National Geographic Little Kids First Big Books) National Geographic Kids Almanac 2014 (National Geographic Kids Almanac (Quality)) National Geographic Kids Almanac 2013 (National Geographic Kids Almanac (Quality)) National Geographic Kids Almanac 2012 (National Geographic Kids Almanac (Quality))

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help