Usage & grammar guides

I have used the Target Spelling series of workbooks for 20 years now and have now begun to replace them due to wear and tear and essentially crumbling in my hands from age. They have been updated and "modernized" from the books I had 20 years ago and this was a pleasant surprise. I am a Special Education Teacher, currently at a High School, although I used the same books at the elementary level as well. This series works! I have had great success with sight word building, phonics, increasing writing levels, and reading levels in students with cognitive disabilities. The lessons are four pages each and start with six new words per lesson expanding to eight in the latter books in the series. The activities include sight word identification, fill in the blank with the correct spelling word, sentence writing, and penmanship activities. Variations are made from lesson to lesson, but I like to modify the lessons to include dictionary activities and story-writing using the new spelling words. The series starts with 180 and goes to 360, 540, 780, 1080 and 12 something. Each book in the series gets progressively harder and by the latter books are dealing with fairly advanced concepts on grammar. The lessons can be done either independently, group, or teacher facilitated activities. One is only as limited as the imagination. As stated, I have had great success using this series and highly recommend it to educators or parents who want to facilitate or remediate their child's learning.

Target Spelling is a good series for spelling, phonics, and vocabulary building. This book is perfect for daily independent homework assignments. Grade Level = 3rd grade (has some cursive writing)
