Am I ever glad I stumbled upon this book! Fantastic book for a Pistons fan or NBA fan in general. Written by, or at least in the narrative of Isiah Thomas. Not as in-depth or well done as Cameron Stauth's "The Franchise" written about the same subject but a great account by one of the true icons of the 80's NBA and of Detroit basketball. Great read!

I highly recommend this book to anyone that has followed the pistons throughout the years. This book talks about the pistons in their championship run in 88-89. It has a nice summary of each game throughout the playoffs and some critical plays and moments that helped get them there. It also has some very good insight from Isiah Thomas who scored an amazing 16 points in a measely 93 seconds. It talks about the huge rivalry between the pistons celtics, pistons lakers, and pistons and bulls. I learned a lot of things that went on specially behind the scenes. There is also a bunch of pictures from great moments throughout the playoffs. One of Kareem Abdul Jabaar shooting his famous skyhook in his final game. And one of Jordan vs. Isiah in a jump ball. I also learned a lot from reading each players statistics which are located in the bacfk of the book and in some pictures. I never knew who contributed and who was all even on the team. So as u can see i would high recommend this book and enjoyed reading it very much. If you have any questions just email me.
