"Stunning color paintings illustrate the story of a brother and sister who spend a day aboard a lobstering boat. . . . The photographic quality of the realistic illustrations complements and extends the informative nature of the text." -- Booklist, December 1990 --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

My son loves lobsters and loves everything about lobstering. This book was a big hit!

Informative and fun!

My 5 and 6 year olds absolutely love this book. This book is as close to lobstering my kids will probably ever get. In that regard, it is packed with useful information about how lobsters are caught and what other kinds of things end up in a lobster trap. This interesting thing about this book, aside from the lifelike illustrations, is that it tells the reader why some lobsters get tossed back (i.e. too small or have eggs attached). It shows the reader how the lobsterman measures the lobster to ensure it is not too small. A lesson in conservation rolled up into a delightful story. Buy this book. You and your children will NOT be disappointed. My kids have read this book about 6 times in 10 days. That's the kind of results you want to get kids reading.

I purchased this book for my 5 year old son and 2 year old daughter. The story is detailed and accurate, the illustrations come to life. I love the easily missed detail in the illustrations such as the sunken ship and birds hovering over a distant vessel. After being read the book for the first time my little boy went and told his father "I actually learned a lot from that book", we all give it 5 stars.

This book was truly amazing. It gave me (someone from ohio) a true insight about what lobstering is really about! The pictures are great and the story line very descriptive and intuitive. I would definitely recommend this book to anyone that has kids or no kids. Please buy.

My son and I go to Maine for vacations. We picked up this book and have begun picking up lobster toys. He really loves it!

My daughter and son enjoy this book and learned something about lobsters. We think the pictures are pretty incredible!
