Suzanne McNeill is often known as a Trendsetter for arts and crafts. Dedicated to hands-on creativity, she constantly tests, experiments and invents something new and exciting. Suzanne is the woman behind Design Originals, a publishing company dedicated to all things fun and creative. She is a designer, artist, columnist, TV personality, publisher, art instructor, author and lover of everything hands-on. She was the 2011 winner of the Craft and Hobby Association's Industry Achievement Award.

I bought this book to help give me more ideas to do projects with my grand kids. They love to draw with markers so what better way to show them how they can color a scarf or plain white tennis shoes. Lots of fun stuff. The colors fade if not heat set so if it's possible, try to heat set the project when it's done and dry. Ironing or putting in a hot dryer is what I do.

If you want to have some fun and create lively & colorful garments then get this book and you will have a ball. These projects can be done by anyone including children, who will love decorating their old t-shirts with sharpies. All the directions are in this book and you probably have everything at home right now.

The book is very interesting but I have not had time to experiment with it. However, there are a number of hints for dying fabric with easily accessible paints and dyes.

Fun booklet, informative and colorful.

Lots of great ideas to use T-Shirts in this book.

Good Book

Also a Great book to include children and adults using sharpies and rubbing alcohol.

Opens new doors to dyers. Who knew Sharpies deleted with alcohol would create wondrous abstract art? This craft is easy and requires little in the way of equipment. It's more of a booklet and there's a lot of duplication of ideas. Fun find for crafters.
