1,000 Places To See Before You Die Page-A-Day Calendar 2017

Synopsis

The million-copy-plus bestselling calendar whisks you to hundreds of fabulous destinations across the world, with Patricia Schultz—author of the phenomenal 1,000 Places to See Before You Die series—as your personal tour guide. Discover Ubud, Bali, known for both its ancient artistic heritage and lush, terraced rice paddies. The mineral-rich and purportedly curative hot springs of Hakone, Japan. Guanajuato's soaring, salmon-colored La Parroquia church. And the San Juan Islands—a hidden gem of the Pacific Northwest. Plus, festivals, Global Intelligence quizzes, Traveler in the Know tips, and quotes: All journeys have secret destinations of which the traveler is unaware.—Martin Buber

Patricia Schultz is the author of the #1 New York Times bestsellers 1,000 Places to See Before You Die and 1,000 Places to See in the United States and Canada Before You Die. A veteran travel journalist with 30 years of experience, she has written for guides such as Frommer's and Berlitz and periodicals including The Wall Street Journal and Travel Weekly, where she is a contributing editor. She also executive-produced a Travel Channel television show based on 1,000 Places to See Before You Die. Her home base is New York City.

Wonderful daily calendar that I look forward to changing every day. I get lots of comments from co-workers and have created a bucket list of travel locations. Unfortunately, this year my calendar arrived in two pieces as it had broken at one of the perforated sections along the binding. Had to fix it up with some packing tape as it isn't worth the hassle of returning it for a new one. Not a complaint really, just a comment on construction. Definitely recommend to all!

I love the concept of this calendar, but I wish some of the photography was more impressive (or maybe just printed at a higher quality)? It seems like the photography should be breathtaking in a lot of cases, but they are merely nice pictures.

At the start of each day, we decide whether we want to visit the highlighted place. If we do, we set it aside for the future. Now, if we only had the money . . .

Love it except wish the weekend was also a place, not global intelligence.

The calendar is nice with full color photos, however, the photos only take up half the page. I'm not really complaining as so far there have been some interesting places and info on each page. Also, I'm keeping this at my office desk and use the daily discarded pages as scratch paper to reuse! Nice calendar at a good price.

My husband requests one of these every year for Christmas, and enjoys it every day. A winner.

Content is great! I have traveled a lot so enjoy keeping track of how many places each year I have seen. Last year was 34. My 2017 Calendar was broken in that gum/paper side where the pages attach was split into 2 and separated from the plastic backing.

Not exactly what I was expecting, not the greatest photos and the locations are oddly specific. I was hoping more for cities to see than "petronas towers, malaysia," or "Celus library, Turkey."
